

Photo by Senior Airman Jason Colbert

People crowd around a static display of a C-130 at the air show. The air show was Holloman's first in three years.

Photo by Senior Airman Jason Colbert

(From left to right) An F-4 Phantom II, a P-38 Lightning, an A-10 Thunderbolt II and an F-15C Eagle fly in formation during the seldom seen Heritage Flight at the air show Sunday.

AIR SHOW 2005

THUNDER OVER

Liberty takes THE BASIN Flight

Photo by Tech. Sgt. James Hart

Above: Tate Johnson says hello to Ricky the Recruiter during the air show.

Top right: Sergeant 1st Class John Dallas Berentis, U.S. Army Golden Knights Parachute Team, lands on his mark during the opening ceremony of the air show.

Photo by Senior Airman Erik Somppi

Photo by Senior Airman Erik Somppi

The Air Force Thunderbirds fly over Holloman during their performance at the air show.

Photo by Tech. Sgt. James Hart

Tech. Sgt. Justin Pyle, a photojournalist with the Air Force Thunderbirds, signs an autograph during the air show.

Photo by Tech. Sgt. James Hart

Above: More than 63,000 people attended Holloman's Community Appreciation Day and Open House Sunday, which is more than three times the number of people who attended the show in 2002.

Bottom right: Kyle Baker sits in the turbine of a KC-135 Stratotanker.

Photo by Senior Airman Erik Somppi